Virtual Pre-Intersessional Meeting

The Use of Mediation in ISDS

09 LIVE CAST
NOVEMBER, 2020

In the work of Working Group III of the United Nations Commission on International Trade Law (UNCITRAL) on the possible reform of investor-State dispute settlement (ISDS), the use of mediation in resolving ISDS disputes is a topic that is being studied.

Mediation, which emphasises harmony, can offer unique benefits, such as providing host jurisdictions and foreign investors with a high degree of autonomy, flexibility and creative, forward-looking and consensual settlement arrangements in resolving international investment disputes, preserving the long-term relationships between the disputing parties as well as saving costs and time. Mediation can also complement the use of investment arbitration to enrich the practice of ISDS.

In order to contribute to the discussion of UNCITRAL Working Group III on mediation, a virtual pre-intersessional meeting will be held on 9 November 2020 (GMT+8 time zone). World-renowned experts, including those from governments and international organisations, mediators, practitioners as well as academics will discuss various topical issues of investment mediation. These topical issues will cover how to overcome challenges to the use of mediation in ISDS, the design of mediation protocol in a multi-tiered dispute resolution process, the process design in hybrid models of arbitration and mediation, and the way forward for mediation as a reform option for ISDS.

Delegations of UNCITRAL Working Group III and those who are interested in the use of mediation in ISDS are most welcome to register to join the virtual pre-intersessional meeting.
